The AI Solopreneur Prompt Vault

50 high-converting prompts to run a one-person business like a ten-person one

The 50 High-Converting AI Prompts for Solopreneurs & Freelancers

Copy-paste prompts that turn any AI (ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini) into your marketing team, sales rep, and operations manager — so a one-person business runs like a ten-person one.

Every prompt is engineered with a role, a task, and constraints so you get usable output on the first try. Replace the [BRACKETS] and paste.

How to get 10x better output from every prompt

- Fill every bracket. The more specific your inputs, the less generic the output.
- Feed context first. Paste your real website copy, a past email, or your bio before asking — AI mirrors what you give it.
- Iterate in the same chat. "Make #3 punchier," "cut it by 30%," "give me 5 more like the second one." The second draft is where the gold is.
- Keep a winners folder. When a prompt nails it, save the whole thread. Your prompt library is a compounding asset.

SECTION 1 — Cold Outreach & Sales (Prompts 1–10)

Prompt 1 — Zero-Pressure Value-First Email

Role: Top B2B sales specialist.
Task: Write a 90-word cold email to a [BUSINESS TYPE] owner.
Constraint: Open by giving a free, specific value sample (e.g. 5 meta tags, one rewritten bullet). No call ask, no pitch – just the gift plus a soft "want the rest?" line.
Tone: Friendly, professional, zero-pressure.

Prompt 2 — High-Converting Fiverr/Upwork Gig

Role: Senior freelance copywriter.
Task: Write a gig title, 4 benefit-led bullet features, a 3-tier package table, and a 5-question FAQ for [SERVICE].
Include: 1-hour turnaround where credible, a clear guarantee, and metric-focused deliverables. Optimise the title for how buyers actually search.

Prompt 3 — Reddit Value Post That Isn't Spam

Role: Viral community builder.
Task: Draft a genuinely helpful post for [SUBREDDIT] sharing 3 specific, actionable tips on [TOPIC].
Constraint: 100% value, no links, no self-promo in the body. End with one soft, opt-in offer: "happy to review one [thing] for free – drop it below."

Prompt 4 — Discovery-Call Question Set

Role: Consultative sales expert.

Task: Give me 10 discovery questions to ask a [PROSPECT TYPE] that uncover their real pain, budget, and urgency without feeling like an interrogation. Order them from rapport to commitment.

Prompt 5 — Objection-Handling Scripts

Task: List the 6 most common objections a [PROSPECT TYPE] raises before buying [SERVICE], and write a calm, non-defensive 2-3 sentence response to each that reframes rather than argues.

Prompt 6 — Follow-Up Sequence

Task: Write a 4-email follow-up sequence for a lead who went quiet after showing interest in [SERVICE]. Each email: new angle, under 90 words, one soft CTA. Space them 3 days apart. Email 4 is a polite break-up.

Prompt 7 — Proposal in Their Language

Role: Client-winning strategist.

Task: Turn these rough notes [PASTE NOTES] into a one-page proposal with: their problem in their words, my approach in 3 steps, deliverables, timeline, price, and a single clear next step. No jargon.

Prompt 8 — LinkedIn Connection + First Message

Task: Write a 300-character LinkedIn connection note and a follow-up first message for reaching [ROLE] at [INDUSTRY] companies. No pitch in either – lead with something specific and genuinely interesting to them.

Prompt 9 — Warm Referral Ask

Task: Write a short, low-pressure message asking a happy past client for a referral or intro to someone who needs [SERVICE]. Make it easy to say yes and easy to forward.

Prompt 10 — Price-Raise Announcement

Task: Write a warm, confident message telling existing clients my rate for [SERVICE] is increasing from [OLD] to [NEW] on [DATE], framing it around the value delivered and giving them a window to lock in the old rate. No apology.

SECTION 2 — Social Media & Content (Prompts 11–20)

Prompt 11 — 5 Viral Thread Hooks

Task: Write 5 scroll-stopping opening lines for an X/Twitter thread about [TOPIC]. Use curiosity gaps, specific numbers, and tension. Rank them most to least likely to go viral and tell me why the top one wins.

Prompt 12 — LinkedIn Thought-Leadership Post

Task: Turn this rough idea "[IDEA]" into a 150-word LinkedIn post using Problem-Agitate-Solve. Short lines, one idea per line, a strong first line, and a question to drive comments. No hashtags stuffed at the end.

Prompt 13 — 30-Day Content Calendar

Role: Content strategist.

Task: Build a 30-day content plan for a [NICHE] solopreneur across [PLATFORMS]. Give me a mix of educational, story, and promotional posts (roughly 3:1:1), each with a one-line hook and the core point. Table format.

Prompt 14 — Repurpose One Idea 10 Ways

Task: Take this single idea [PASTE IDEA] and turn it into: an X thread, a LinkedIn post, a TikTok script, an Instagram carousel outline, a newsletter section, and a short blog intro. Keep the core message consistent, adapt the format to each.

Prompt 15 — Carousel/Slide Outline

Task: Outline a 7-slide Instagram/LinkedIn carousel teaching [TOPIC]. Slide 1 is a hook, slides 2-6 are one point each with a concrete example, slide 7 is a CTA. Give me the exact text for each slide.

Prompt 16 — Caption + CTA Generator

Task: Write 3 caption options for a post about [TOPIC], each with a different tone (educational, personal-story, bold-opinion). Each ends with a comment-driving question. Under 120 words each.

Prompt 17 — Comment-Bait Questions

Task: Give me 15 genuinely engaging questions I can post to my [NICHE] audience that are easy to answer, spark opinions, and aren't cringe. Group by theme.

Prompt 18 — Video Script from Bullet Points

Task: Turn these bullets [PASTE] into a 45-second talking-head script. Hook in the first line, tight value in the middle, one CTA at the end. Write it the way people actually speak, not the way they write.

Prompt 19 — Personal Brand Bio

Task: Write 3 versions of my bio (one-liner, 50 words, 100 words) for a [NICHE] solopreneur who helps [AUDIENCE] achieve [OUTCOME]. Confident, specific, no buzzword soup. Include a version optimised for [PLATFORM].

Prompt 20 — Trend-Jacking Angle

Task: Here's a current trend/news item in my space: [PASTE]. Give me 3 authentic ways I could tie my [EXPERTISE] to it for timely content, without being tacky or forced.

SECTION 3 — Products, Offers & Pricing (Prompts 21–30)

Prompt 21 — 10 Digital Product Ideas

Task: Generate 10 digital product ideas for [AUDIENCE] that take under 4 hours to create, need no inventory, and can sell for £5–£40 on Gumroad/Etsy. For each: title, format, who it's for, and why they'd buy.

Prompt 22 — Offer Stack Builder

Role: Direct-response offer strategist.

Task: Build a compelling offer for [PRODUCT/SERVICE] using value stacking: core deliverable, 2-3 bonuses, a risk-reversal guarantee, and a reason to act now. Present it as buyers would see it, with an anchored price.

Prompt 23 — Pricing Tiers (Good/Better/Best)

Task: Design 3 pricing tiers for [PRODUCT/SERVICE]. Make the middle tier the obvious best value (decoy pricing). For each tier: name, price, what's included, and who it's for. Explain the psychology in one line each.

Prompt 24 — Product Name Generator

Task: Give me 15 memorable names for a [PRODUCT TYPE] that helps [AUDIENCE] with [OUTCOME]. Mix descriptive, benefit-led, and clever. Flag the 3 strongest and check none sound like an existing big brand.

Prompt 25 — Sales Page Copy

Role: Conversion copywriter.

Task: Write a sales page for [PRODUCT]: headline, subhead, problem section, solution, what's-inside bullets (benefit-led), proof placeholder, offer, guarantee, FAQ, and final CTA. Match the reading level of a busy buyer on their phone.

Prompt 26 — Lead Magnet Idea + Outline

Task: Suggest 5 lead-magnet ideas for [AUDIENCE] that solve one urgent problem fast, then fully outline the best one so I could build it in an afternoon.

Prompt 27 — Upsell / Cross-Sell Map

Task: For my core offer [DESCRIBE], map a natural upsell, a down-sell, and a cross-sell. Explain what each is, its price, and the moment in the customer journey to present it.

Prompt 28 — Bundle Strategy

Task: I have these products: [LIST]. Design 2 bundle offers that increase average order value, with a bundle name, what's inside, individual-vs-bundle price, and the "you save £X" hook.

Prompt 29 — Testimonial Request That Gets Replies

Task: Write a short message asking a happy customer for a testimonial, with 3 specific prompt questions that pull out a concrete, results-based quote instead of "great service, thanks!"

Prompt 30 — Refund/Guarantee Policy

Task: Write a clear, friendly, confidence-boosting guarantee and refund policy for [PRODUCT] that reduces buyer risk while protecting me from abuse. Plain English.

SECTION 4 — Operations, Automation & Admin (Prompts 31–40)

Prompt 31 — SOP Writer

Role: Operations manager.
Task: Turn this messy process [DESCRIBE] into a clean, numbered standard operating procedure a new freelancer could follow with zero context. Include tools needed, common mistakes, and a quality checklist.

Prompt 32 — Email-to-Task Extractor

Task: Read this email/thread [PASTE] and extract: action items (with owner and deadline), decisions made, and open questions. Output as 3 short lists.

Prompt 33 — Client Onboarding Checklist

Task: Create a client onboarding checklist for a [SERVICE] freelancer: welcome steps, info to collect, access needed, expectation-setting, and first-week milestones. Make it copy-pasteable into Notion/Trello.

Prompt 34 — Weekly Review Prompt

Task: Act as my accountability coach. Ask me 6 questions to run a Friday weekly review covering wins, misses, revenue, pipeline, and next week's top 3 priorities. Then summarise my answers into a short plan.

Prompt 35 — Meeting Notes → Summary

Role: Executive assistant.

Task: Turn these raw meeting notes [PASTE] into: 3 key decisions, next actions with owners and dates, and any items needing client approval. Concise, scannable.

Prompt 36 — Invoice / Payment Chaser

Task: Write a firm-but-friendly payment reminder for an invoice that's [X days] overdue. Give me 3 escalating versions (gentle nudge, direct, final notice) I can send in sequence.

Prompt 37 — Time-Block My Day

Task: Here are my tasks and their rough durations [LIST]. Build me a realistic time-blocked schedule for tomorrow that protects 2 hours of deep work, batches shallow work, and includes breaks. Flag anything I'm overcommitting on.

Prompt 38 — Decision Framework

Task: I'm deciding between [OPTION A] and [OPTION B] for my business. Walk me through a structured comparison: criteria that matter, how each scores, risks, reversibility, and your recommendation with reasoning.

Prompt 39 — Automate This Workflow

Task: I do this repetitive task manually: [DESCRIBE]. Suggest how to automate or semi-automate it using free/cheap tools (Zapier, Make, native features, or a simple script). Give me the exact steps.

Prompt 40 — Customer Support Reply Templates

Task: Write friendly, on-brand reply templates for my 6 most common customer messages: [LIST or "generate typical ones for a [BUSINESS TYPE]"]. Each should resolve fast and leave the customer feeling looked after.

SECTION 5 — Strategy, Growth & Mindset (Prompts 41–50)

Prompt 41 — Niche-Down Advisor

Task: I currently serve [BROAD AUDIENCE]. Help me find a more profitable niche: suggest 5 specific sub-niches, score each on demand, competition, and willingness to pay, and recommend one with reasoning.

Prompt 42 — Competitor Teardown

Role: Market analyst.

Task: Here's a competitor: [URL/DESCRIPTION]. Break down their positioning, pricing, target customer, and one clear gap I could exploit. Give me a one-line angle that differentiates me.

Prompt 43 — 90-Day Growth Plan

Task: Build a realistic 90-day plan to take my [BUSINESS] from [CURRENT STATE] to [GOAL]. Break it into monthly themes, weekly focus areas, and a single "if I only do one thing" lever per week.

Prompt 44 — Find My First 10 Customers

Task: I sell [PRODUCT/SERVICE] to [AUDIENCE]. Give me 10 specific, actionable ways to find my first 10 paying customers this month with a £0 budget. Rank by speed-to-first-sale.

Prompt 45 — Positioning Statement

Task: Write a sharp positioning statement: "I help [WHO] achieve [OUTCOME] without [PAIN], unlike [ALTERNATIVE] which [WEAKNESS]." Give me 3 versions and tell me which is strongest and why.

Prompt 46 — Revenue Math Reality Check

Task: I want to earn £[GOAL]/month from [PRODUCT/SERVICE] priced at £[PRICE]. Work backwards: how many sales, leads, and outreach touches per week does that require at realistic conversion rates? Show the funnel math and flag where it breaks.

Prompt 47 — Content-to-Client Funnel

Task: Design a simple funnel that turns my [PLATFORM] content into paying clients: what content attracts, what captures the lead, what nurtures, and what converts. Keep it lightweight enough for a solo operator.

Prompt 48 — Overcome the Fear/Block

Task: Act as a pragmatic business coach. I'm stuck on [SPECIFIC FEAR/BLOCK, e.g. charging more, posting, launching]. Ask me 3 sharp questions, then give me a small, concrete first action I can take today. No fluff, no toxic positivity.

Prompt 49 — Quarterly Retrospective

Task: Run me through a quarterly business retrospective. Ask what worked, what didn't, what I learned, and what to double down on or cut. Then output a one-page summary and 3 priorities for next quarter.

Prompt 50 — 24-Hour Launch Checklist

Task: Give me a 3-part action plan to validate and launch [PRODUCT] within 24 hours using only free tools (Notion, Gumroad, X/Reddit). Include: the minimum viable version, where to post, and the exact first message to send. Make it so I could start in the next 10 minutes.

Bonus: The 4-part prompt formula (build your own forever)

Any great prompt = ROLE + TASK + CONTEXT + CONSTRAINTS: - Role: "Act as a [specific expert]." Sets the quality bar. - Task: One clear verb + deliverable. "Write," "list," "rewrite," "outline." - Context: Paste your real material. This is what separates generic from tailored. - Constraints: Length, tone, format, what to avoid. This is where you control the output.

Master this and you'll never need a prompt pack again — but this one will save you a thousand hours in the meantime.
